Long before half-past six last evening the Park theater was taxed almost to its fullest capacity, and shortly at- 9. Indian Love Lyricsterwards there was not even standing room to be gained, and people were waiting in the street unable to obtain admission. The attraction, of course, was the star performance of Wills and Hassan, whose great reputation had preceded them. The act submitted by these performers was an excellent one in every way, and not one of the large audience that was jammed into the Park Tneater could have said other than that it was a great act. Those present were certainly appreciative of all the daring feats that were carried out with an ease and grace that made them look simple. These two people work with wonderful rapidity, and not moment is lost while they are on the stage. Their strength and balancing power are phenomenal. Wills in the strong man, and he handles Hasmoon are for locs! time for the whole san with extraordinary ease, and gets a lot of comedy business off merely by lifting him out of his way oceasionally. Hassan, too, is strong, but his strength seems to be overshadowed by that shown by his partner.

The tricks performed by this pair have the merit of novelty, and while there are many who do somewhat simlar acts, there are none that go so far as this pair. Their claim that they begin where others leave off, certainly is no idle boast, and it would be impossible to single out any one particular feat as being better than another, for one connot say for instance whether their head to head balancing is better than that part in which Hassan is held in an inverted position by the hands. It is undoubtedly a great act right through, and the ousing reception that they got from the overflowing houses was thoroughly merited. Manager Congdon is to be ongratulated on having persuaded Wills and Hassan to break their journey in Honolulu.

Next Friday evening the following program will be rendered at Bishop Hall, Punahou, by Mr. Philip Hall, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Horton, as accompanist, Mr. Stanley Livingston, Mr. A. F. Wall and Mr. G. A. Brown. Part L

There was a large crowd on the Al. akea street wharf at five o'clock yes terday afternoon when the P. M steamer Korea, with her large crowd of jassengers, left for Japan and China. The U. S. Transport Sheridan left shortly after the Korea, following the Pacific Mail liner through the channel. The Sheridan was also crowded and is going to Manila, with a large number of Army officers from the Coast.
